

School of Psychology – Suggested Research Databases

Database = Most used

**You may need to use different databases depending on the subject and topic of research **

Academic Search Premier – provides full text for more than 4,500 journals, including more than 3,700 peer-reviewed titles. It covers the social sciences, humanities, general science (including psychology), multicultural studies, education, and much more. Uses the Ebsco Host interface.

APA Handbook of Psychology, Religion, and Spirituality, Volumes 1–2 – comprehensive coverage of the current state of psychology of religion and spirituality.

Digitalia Hispanica – includes eBooks and eJournals in Spanish with access to some of the most renowned publishers in Spain and Latin America. While the database is multidisciplinary, you will find scholarly resources in Religion, Philosophy, Psychology, History, Anthropology, and more.

Dissertations & Theses Global (ProQuest) – provides access to more than 1.2 million full-text theses and dissertations available for download in PDF format, together with 2.7 million searchable citations to theses from around the world from 1861 to the present. Most are Ph.D. Dissertations from multiple disciplines, including psychology.

Health Source – provides nearly 550 scholarly full-text journals focusing on many medical disciplines. Also featured are abstracts and indexing for over 850 journals. Provided by Ebsco Host.

JSTOR – Includes full text articles from more than 1,500 leading academic journals in the humanities, social sciences, and sciences. It also contains conference proceedings, theses and dissertations, primary source materials, and eBooks.

ProQuest eBook Central – ProQuest eBook Central is a multi-disciplinary, web-based eBook library lending-platform. These e-books can be browsed online or “checked out” for your exclusive use. All titles are discoverable through library’s online catalog.

ProQuest Research Library – a multidisciplinary resource featuring a diversified mix of scholarly journals, trade publications, and magazines across the top 150 subject areas (including psychology and related fields). Provides access to over 6,000 titles, 75% of which are available in full text.

PsycArticles – contains more than 25,000 full-text articles from 42 journals published by American Psychological Association and allied organizations. Coverage includes general psychology and specialized basic, applied, clinical, and theoretical research in psychology.

PsycCritiques (Ebsco) – includes more than 36,000 book reviews, dating back to 1956. Produced by APA. In addition to reviews of current scholarly and professional books in psychology, the database also contains critiques of popular films and trade books from a psychological perspective.

PsychBooks – includes over 10,000 chapters from over 600 books published by APA copyright 1953 – 2004, 100 out-of-print books, 70+ classic books, and the APA/Oxford University Press Encyclopedia of Psychology.

PsychExtra – produced by the APA, consists of technical, annual and government reports, conference papers, newsletters, magazines, newspapers, consumer brochures, etc.

Psychoanalytic Electronic Publishing Archive – full text of 13 psychoanalytic journals – some dating back to 1920 – and the full text of over 20 classic psychoanalytic books.

Psychology and Behavioral Sciences Collection – comprehensive database with nearly 480 full-text titles covering topics such as emotional and behavioral characteristics, psychiatry and psychology, mental processes, anthropology, and observational and experimental methods.

Psychotherapy.net – database of streaming videos covering the fundamentals of psychotherapy, counseling, and addiction treatment.

PsycInfo – comprehensive international database of psychology, which covers the academic, research, and practice literature in psychology from over 45 countries in more than 30 languages. The database mostly offers citations but there is some Full text available. (Results are roughly 20%- 50% full text depending on the subject.)

SAGE Journals – provides searchable full-text to 1160+ journals with content relevant to all three FTS schools. For SOP there are 74 journals directly focused on psychiatry and neuroscience, along with 400+ auxiliary journals representing the health and medical fields.

ScienceDirect (Open Access Only) – Elsevier’s leading platform of peer-reviewed scholarly literature. Students can utilize Elsevier’s extensive open access journal program with 600+ fully open journals, and an additional 2,000 journals with select open access content. Subjects covered include psychology, health science, and social sciences.

Tertiary / Reference / General Info Databases

American Doctoral Dissertations (Open Access via EBSCO) – a free database index with records for more than 800,000 electronic theses and dissertations from around the world. Coverage is multi-disciplinary and ranges from 1933 to the present. Database holds bibliographic records only, no full text.

Article First – provides a machine created index to tables of contents pages from over 16,000 journals in business, science, humanities, social science, medicine, technology, and popular culture.

BrowZine – Journal / Periodical Database –In addition to title searching, this service allows you to browse through available titles by subject, as well as save journal titles and articles to a custom bookshelf when using a personal account. BrowZine also links to our interlibrary loan (ILL) system for issues not held by Fuller.

ClasePeriodica – indexes documents published in Latin American journals specializing in the social sciences and humanities, and science and technology. It offers more than 300,000 bibliographic citations from 2,600 scholarly journals published in the Spanish, Portuguese, French and English languages.

Credo Reference – 415+ full-text encyclopedias and reference books from major publishers such as Cambridge, Harvard, Routledge, Britannica.

EBSCO eBook Academic Collection – full-text electronic books found in EbscoHost. This customized collection includes recent books published in fields of religion, psychology, education, the social sciences, etc. All titles are searchable through library's online catalog.

EBSCO Electronic Journal Service – full-text of over 150 journals of some of the titles to which we also subscribe in print.

Encyclopaedia Britannica Online - complete encyclopedia with related Internet sites and more.

Encyclopedia of Religion Online (Gale Virtual Reference Library) – Gale References include their Encyclopedia of Psychology, Child Development, and Gender: Sources, Perspectives, and Methodologies, along with other references on religion and culture.

ERIC – covers journal articles and reports about education issued in Resources in Education (RIE) and Current Index to Journals in Education (CIJE).

Funk and Wagnalls New World Encyclopaedia – provides over 25,000 entries covering a variety of subject areas.

JSTOR – Includes full text articles from more than 1,500 leading academic journals in the humanities, social sciences, and sciences. JSTOR also includes conference proceedings, theses and dissertations, primary source materials, and eBooks into its one search integrated platform.

Medline – covers clinical medicine, psychiatry, nursing, and other medical fields, including citations from over 4,800 current biomedical journals, and over 19,000 older journals. The indexing covers from 1965 to the present, and includes some limited Full Text.

Newspaper Source - full text for nearly 30 national (U.S.) and international newspapers.

OAIster – OAIster is a union catalog for open access resources. Today, OAIster includes more than 50 million records that represent digital resources from more than 2,000 contributors. Records include both digital texts and images provided by museums and major universities.

Oxford English Dictionary (OED) Online – guide to the meaning, history, and pronunciation of over half a million words, both present and past. It covers words from across the English-speaking world from North America to South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and the Caribbean.

SAGE Knowledge – home to an expansive range of eBook and reference content alongside SAGE Video, containing over 5,100 titles. Content includes reference works, academic books, professional development titles and more. Subject areas include counseling & psychotherapy, psychology, sociology/ethnography, anthropology, and culture studies.

WorldCat Dissertations and Theses – contains records of dissertations, theses, and published materials based on theses from mostly U.S. schools. (May have to request through ILL.)